- Scientific discoveries and globalization expanded English further.
- Thousands of new words continue to be added.

Examples: Internet, Software, Smartphone, Artificial Intelligence.

6. Old English

Meaning

- Old English is the earliest form of English spoken between 450 AD and 1100 AD.

Characteristics

1. Germanic vocabulary.
2. Complex grammar.
3. Highly inflected language.
4. Different pronunciation.
5. Difficult for modern speakers to understand.

Literature

- Beowulf
- Anglo-Saxon Chronicle

Importance

- Foundation of Modern English.
- Source of many everyday words.
- Helps understand the evolution of English.

7. Contemporary (Modern) English

Meaning

- Modern English is the present-day form of English used throughout the world.

Characteristics

1. Simple grammar.
2. Standard spelling.
3. Rich vocabulary.
4. Dynamic and flexible.
5. International acceptance.
6. Widely used in education, science, business, and technology.

Major Varieties

- British English
- American English
- Australian English

- Indian English

8. Oral English and Written English

Oral English

Meaning

- Oral English is communication through speaking and listening.

Characteristics

1. Spoken language.
2. Immediate feedback.
3. Uses voice, stress, and intonation.
4. Informal in many situations.
5. Temporary in nature.

Advantages

- Quick communication.
- Immediate clarification.
- Develops pronunciation and fluency.

Limitations

- No permanent record.
- Misunderstanding may occur.
- Depends on listening skills.

Written English

Meaning

- Written English is communication through written symbols.

Characteristics

1. Permanent record.
2. Follows grammatical rules.
3. More organized.
4. Carefully planned.
5. Used for formal communication.

Advantages

- Permanent evidence.
- Accurate communication.
- Useful for education and business.

Limitations

- Time-consuming.

- No immediate feedback.
- Requires writing skills.

Difference Between Oral and Written English

Oral English	Written English
Spoken	Written
Temporary	Permanent
Immediate feedback	Delayed feedback
Uses stress and intonation	Uses punctuation
More informal	More formal
Faster	Slower

9. Formal and Informal English

Formal English

Meaning

- Used in official, academic, and professional situations.

Characteristics

1. Standard grammar.
2. Polite expressions.
3. Complete sentences.
4. Precise vocabulary.
5. Objective style.

Examples

- Academic writing
- Official letters
- Reports
- Speeches

Informal English

Meaning

- Used among friends and family in everyday conversation.

Characteristics

1. Casual style.
2. Contractions.
3. Slang expressions.
4. Short sentences.
5. Personal tone.

Examples

- Conversations
- Text messages
- Social media chats
- Friendly emails

Difference Between Formal and Informal English

Formal English	Informal English
Official	Casual
Standard grammar	Relaxed grammar
Complete sentences	Short sentences
Professional vocabulary	Everyday vocabulary
Used in academic writing	Used in daily conversation

10. Aspects of English

English consists of several interrelated aspects that help learners understand and use the language effectively.

A. Phonological Aspect

Meaning

- Study of the sound system of a language.

Includes

- Speech sounds
- Vowels
- Consonants
- Stress
- Intonation
- Rhythm
- Accent
- Pause
- Juncture

Importance

- Improves pronunciation.
- Develops listening skills.
- Enhances speaking ability.

B. Morphological Aspect

Meaning

- Study of the structure and formation of words.

Includes

- Root words
- Prefixes
- Suffixes
- Morphemes
- Word formation

Examples

- Un + happy
- Teach + er
- Kind + ness

Importance

- Increases vocabulary.
- Helps understand word formation.

C. Syntactic Aspect

Meaning

- Study of sentence structure and word order.

Includes

- Phrase structure
- Clause structure
- Sentence formation
- Word order

Example

Correct:

- She is reading a book.

Incorrect:

- Reading book she is.

Importance

- Develops grammatical accuracy.
 - Improves writing and speaking.

D. Grammatical Aspect

Meaning

- Study of the rules governing correct language use.

Includes

- Parts of speech
- Tenses
- Articles
- Voice
- Narration
- Subject–verb agreement
- Punctuation

Importance

- Ensures correctness.
 - Improves communication.

E. Lexical Aspect

Meaning

- Study of vocabulary.

Includes

- Word meaning
- Synonyms
- Antonyms
- Idioms
- Phrases
- Collocations

Importance

- Enriches vocabulary.

- Improves comprehension.

F. Semantic Aspect

Meaning

- Study of the meaning of words and sentences.

Includes

- Literal meaning
- Contextual meaning
- Figurative meaning

Importance

- Prevents misunderstanding.
 - Develops comprehension skills.

G. Orthographic Aspect

Meaning

- Study of the writing system of English.

Includes

- Alphabet
- Spelling
- Capitalization
- Punctuation
- Paragraphing

Importance

- Improves writing accuracy.
- Develops correct spelling habits.
- Enhances written communication.

UNIT-II: LANGUAGE TEACHING

1. Language Teaching

Meaning

- Language Teaching is the process of developing learners' ability to understand, speak, read, and write a language effectively.
- It involves planned instruction, appropriate methods, suitable teaching materials, and meaningful learning experiences.
- The main objective is to develop communicative competence rather than mere knowledge of grammar.

Definition

Language Teaching is the systematic process of helping learners acquire language skills through suitable methods, techniques, and activities.

2. Basic Concepts in Language Teaching

A. Mother Tongue (MT)

Meaning

- The Mother Tongue (MT) is the first language acquired naturally by a child from birth.
- It is also called the Native Language or Home Language.

Characteristics

1. Learned naturally.
2. Used in daily communication.
3. Closely related to culture and identity.
4. Provides the foundation for learning other languages.

Advantages

- Easy comprehension.
- Better emotional expression.
- Promotes cognitive development.
- Facilitates learning of additional languages.

B. First Language (L1)

Meaning

- L1 (First Language) is the first language learned by an individual.
- In most cases, it is the same as the mother tongue.

Characteristics

1. Learned naturally.
2. Acquired without formal instruction.
3. Forms the basis of communication.

4. Influences the learning of other languages.

C. Second Language (L2)

Meaning

- A Second Language (L2) is a language learned after the first language and used for education, administration, or communication within a country.

Examples

- English in India.
- Hindi for many non-Hindi speaking states.

Importance

- Expands communication.
- Improves employment opportunities.
- Promotes national integration.
- Provides access to higher education.

D. Third Language (TL)

Meaning

- A Third Language is learned after the first and second languages.
- It is usually introduced under educational language policies.

Importance

- Promotes multilingualism.
- Develops cultural understanding.
- Enhances communication skills.

E. Foreign Language (FL)

Meaning

- A Foreign Language is a language learned in a country where it is not commonly used for daily communication.

Examples

- French in India.
- German in India.
- Japanese in India.

Importance

- International communication.
- Employment opportunities.
- Cultural exchange.
- Higher education abroad.

3. Difference Between L1, L2 and FL

Basis	L1	L2	FL
Meaning	First language	Language learned after L1	Language of another country
Learning	Natural	Formal/Natural	Mainly Formal
Usage	Daily communication	Education & communication	Limited communication
Environment	Home	Society	Classroom
Example (India)	Marathi	English	French

4. Language Content

Meaning

- Language Content refers to the knowledge and components that learners must acquire for effective communication.

Types of Language Content

A. Phonological Content

Meaning

- Deals with the sound system of language.

Includes

- Speech sounds
- Vowels
- Consonants
- Stress
- Accent
- Intonation
- Rhythm

Implications for Teaching

- Develop correct pronunciation.
- Improve listening skills.
- Build speaking fluency.

B. Lexical Content

Meaning

- Refers to the vocabulary of a language.

Includes

- Words
- Synonyms
- Antonyms
- Idioms
- Phrases
- Collocations

Implications for Teaching

- Enrich vocabulary.
- Improve reading comprehension.
- Enhance speaking and writing.

C. Syntactic Content

Meaning

- Refers to the grammar and sentence structure of language.

Includes

- Word order
- Phrase structure
- Clauses
- Sentence patterns

Implications for Teaching

- Develop grammatical accuracy.
- Improve sentence construction.
- Enhance written expression.

D. Structural Content

Meaning

- Refers to the structural patterns used in language.

Includes

- Sentence patterns
- Tenses
- Question forms
- Active and Passive Voice
- Transformation of sentences

Implications for Teaching

- Promotes correct language use.
- Improves fluency.
- Develops communication skills.

E. Orthographic Content

Meaning

- Refers to the writing system of English.

Includes

- Script
- Spelling
- Capitalization
- Punctuation
- Size and shape of letters
- Handwriting

Implications for Teaching

- Improves writing accuracy.
- Develops neat handwriting.

- Reduces spelling mistakes.
- Enhances written communication.

5. Basic Language Skills

English learning is based on four basic language skills, commonly known as LSRW Skills.

Listening

↓

Speaking

↓

Reading

↓

Writing

6. Listening Skill

Meaning

- Listening is the active process of receiving, understanding, interpreting, and responding to spoken language.

Difference Between Hearing and Listening

Hearing	Listening
Passive process	Active process
Automatic	Requires attention
Physical ability	Mental process
No interpretation	Includes understanding

Essential Components

1. Receiving sounds.
2. Understanding meaning.
3. Interpreting the message.
4. Responding appropriately.

Sub-skills of Listening

- Identifying main ideas.
- Listening for specific information.
- Understanding sequence.
- Predicting meaning.
- Inferring meaning.
- Critical listening.
- Appreciative listening.

Role of Note-taking

- Improves concentration.
- Helps remember important points.
- Organizes information.
- Supports revision.

- Enhances comprehension.

7. Speaking Skill

Meaning

- Speaking is the productive skill of expressing ideas through spoken language.

Essential Components

1. Pronunciation.
2. Vocabulary.
3. Grammar.
4. Fluency.
5. Accuracy.
6. Confidence.

Sub-skills

- Pronunciation.
- Conversation.
- Discussion.
- Narration.
- Public speaking.
- Presentation.
- Question answering.

Importance

- Develops communication skills.
- Builds confidence.
- Improves social interaction.
- Enhances classroom participation.

8. Reading Skill

Meaning

- Reading is the process of understanding written language.

Mechanics of Reading

1. Word recognition.
2. Vocabulary understanding.
3. Sentence comprehension.
4. Interpretation.
5. Critical thinking.

Types of Reading

A. Skimming

- Reading quickly to understand the main idea.

B. Scanning

- Reading quickly to locate specific information.

C. Silent Reading

- Reading without speaking aloud.
- Improves comprehension and speed.

D. Reading Aloud

- Reading with correct pronunciation and intonation.
- Improves fluency and confidence.

E. Intensive Reading

- Detailed reading for complete understanding.

F. Extensive Reading

- Reading large amounts for general understanding and enjoyment.

9. Writing SkillMeaning

- Writing is the productive skill of expressing ideas in written form.

Types of CompositionA. Oral Composition

- Ideas expressed orally before writing.

B. Written Composition

- Complete written expression of ideas.

C. Controlled Composition

- Teacher guides vocabulary and sentence structure.

D. Guided Composition

- Teacher provides hints or outlines.

E. Contextualized Composition

- Writing based on a meaningful situation.

F. Integrated Composition

- Combines listening, speaking, reading, and writing activities.

Importance of Writing

- Develops creativity.
- Improves grammar.
- Enhances vocabulary.
- Organizes ideas logically.
- Strengthens communication skills.

10. Principles of Language Teaching

1. Principle of motivation.
2. Principle of activity and participation.
3. Principle of learning by doing.
4. Principle of correlation with real life.
5. Principle of moving from known to unknown.
6. Principle of simple to complex.

7. Principle of concrete to abstract.
8. Principle of particular to general.
9. Principle of revision and reinforcement.
10. Principle of individual differences.
11. Principle of accuracy before fluency.
12. Principle of practice and repetition.
13. Principle of meaningful communication.
14. Principle of using teaching aids.
15. Principle of learner-centred teaching.
16. Principle of integrating the four language skills (LSRW).
17. Principle of continuous evaluation.
18. Principle of creating a language-rich environment.

UNIT-III: OBJECTIVES OF ENGLISH LANGUAGE TEACHING (ELT)

1. English Language Teaching (ELT)

Meaning

- English Language Teaching (ELT) refers to the systematic process of teaching English to learners for developing their language proficiency and communication skills.
- ELT aims at enabling learners to use English effectively in academic, social, and professional situations.

Definition

English Language Teaching (ELT) is the planned process of teaching English through suitable methods, techniques, and learning experiences to develop learners' linguistic and communicative competence.

2. Objectives of English Language Teaching

Meaning

- Objectives are the expected learning outcomes that learners should achieve after studying English.
- They guide teachers in planning lessons, selecting methods, and evaluating learners' progress.

3. General Objectives of ELT

1. To develop proficiency in the four language skills (Listening, Speaking, Reading, and Writing).
2. To enable learners to communicate effectively in English.
3. To develop correct pronunciation and fluency.
4. To enrich vocabulary.
5. To develop grammatical accuracy.
6. To cultivate the habit of reading.
7. To encourage creative and critical thinking.
8. To appreciate English literature.
9. To develop confidence in using English.
10. To prepare learners for higher education and employment.
11. To promote international understanding.
12. To develop positive attitudes towards language learning.

4. Specific Objectives of ELT

1. To understand spoken English.
2. To speak English correctly and confidently.

3. To read with proper pronunciation and comprehension.
4. To write grammatically correct sentences.
5. To acquire adequate vocabulary.
6. To use correct grammar in communication.
7. To improve spelling and handwriting.
8. To express ideas clearly.
9. To understand literary and non-literary texts.
10. To use English in real-life situations.

5. Skill-Based Objectives

Skill-based objectives focus on developing the four basic language skills.

A. Listening Objectives

1. Understand spoken English.
2. Identify main ideas.
3. Follow instructions.
4. Interpret meaning from context.
5. Improve concentration and note-taking.

B. Speaking Objectives

1. Speak clearly and confidently.
2. Develop correct pronunciation.
3. Participate in conversations.
4. Express opinions effectively.
5. Improve fluency and accuracy.

C. Reading Objectives

1. Read fluently.
2. Improve comprehension.
3. Develop reading speed.
4. Interpret ideas correctly.
5. Develop the habit of independent reading.

D. Writing Objectives

1. Write grammatically correct sentences.
2. Organize ideas logically.
3. Improve spelling and punctuation.
4. Develop creative writing.
5. Prepare reports, letters, essays, and other compositions.

6. Competence-Based Objectives

Competence-based objectives emphasize the practical use of language.

A. Linguistic Competence

Meaning

- Linguistic Competence refers to the knowledge of the language system and the ability to use it correctly.

Components

1. Vocabulary.
2. Grammar.
3. Pronunciation.
4. Spelling.
5. Sentence structure.

Importance

- Ensures accuracy in language use.
- Improves reading and writing.
- Develops correct communication.

B. Communicative CompetenceMeaning

- Communicative Competence is the ability to use English effectively and appropriately in different social situations.

Components

1. Grammatical Competence.
2. Sociolinguistic Competence.
3. Discourse Competence.
4. Strategic Competence.

Importance

- Promotes meaningful communication.
- Develops confidence.
- Improves social interaction.
- Enables effective language use in real-life situations.

7. Difference Between Linguistic Competence and Communicative Competence

Basis	Linguistic Competence	Communicative Competence
Meaning	Knowledge of language rules	Ability to use language effectively
Focus	Grammar and vocabulary	Communication
Purpose	Correctness	Appropriate communication
Emphasis	Accuracy	Accuracy and Fluency
Scope	Limited	Broad

8. Teaching English as Mother Tongue (TEMT)Meaning

- TEMT refers to teaching English to learners whose first language or native language is English.

Objectives

1. Develop language proficiency.
2. Improve vocabulary.
3. Enhance reading and writing.
4. Appreciate literature.
5. Promote creative expression.

Characteristics

1. Natural language environment.
2. Continuous exposure.
3. High fluency.
4. Literature-oriented learning.

9. Teaching English as a Second Language (TESL)Meaning

- TESL refers to teaching English to learners for whom English is not the first language but is used widely for education, administration, or communication.

Example

- Teaching English in India.

Objectives

1. Develop communication skills.
2. Improve academic achievement.
3. Enhance employment opportunities.
4. Promote national and international communication.

Characteristics

1. Classroom learning.
2. Limited natural exposure.
3. Functional approach.
4. Focus on all four language skills.

10. Teaching English as a Foreign Language (TEFL)Meaning

- TEFL refers to teaching English in countries where English is not commonly used in daily life.

Examples

- Teaching English in Japan, China, Germany, or France.

Objectives

1. Develop basic communication skills.
2. Prepare learners for international communication.

3. Improve career opportunities.
4. Promote intercultural understanding.

Characteristics

1. Classroom-based learning.
2. Minimal exposure outside school.
3. Greater dependence on teaching materials.
4. Emphasis on practice and communication.

11. Difference Between TEMT, TESL and TEFL

Basis	TEMT	TESL	TEFL
Meaning	English as Mother Tongue	English as Second Language	English as Foreign Language
Learners	Native speakers	Non-native speakers	Foreign learners
Environment	Natural	Partly natural	Mainly classroom
Exposure	High	Moderate	Limited
Main Purpose	Language enrichment	Functional communication	International communication
Example	England	India	Japan

12. Importance of ELT

1. Develops communication skills.
2. Improves academic performance.
3. Enhances employment opportunities.
4. Promotes global understanding.
5. Facilitates higher education.
6. Encourages critical and creative thinking.
7. Supports personality development.
8. Improves confidence.
9. Enables access to modern knowledge and technology.
10. Develops lifelong learning skills.

UNIT-IV: APPROACHES AND METHODS OF ENGLISH LANGUAGE TEACHING

1. Approaches and Methods in English Language Teaching

Meaning

- An Approach is a set of beliefs or theories about the nature of language and language learning.
- A Method is the practical application of an approach in the classroom through specific procedures and techniques.
- Different approaches and methods help teachers select suitable strategies according to learners' needs and objectives.

2. Difference Between Approach and Method

Basis	Approach	Method
Meaning	Theoretical foundation	Practical implementation
Nature	Broad and philosophical	Specific and procedural
Focus	What to teach and why	How to teach
Flexibility	More flexible	Less flexible
Example	Communicative Approach	Direct Method

3. Structural Situational Approach

Meaning

- The Structural Situational Approach (SSA) teaches language through graded grammatical structures presented in meaningful situations.

Basic Philosophy

- Language is learned effectively when grammatical structures are taught in realistic situations.

Principles

1. Simple to complex.
2. Oral work before written work.
3. Learning through situations.
4. Practice and repetition.
5. Accuracy before fluency.
6. Use of teaching aids.

Procedure

1. Create a meaningful situation.

2. Present the new structure.
3. Explain its meaning.
4. Practice through drills.
5. Encourage sentence formation.
6. Evaluate learners.

Merits

1. Improves grammatical accuracy.
2. Develops speaking ability.
3. Makes learning meaningful.
4. Encourages active participation.
5. Suitable for beginners.

Demerits

1. Gives less importance to creativity.
2. Requires careful planning.
3. Time-consuming.
4. Limited focus on communication.

4. Communicative Approach

Meaning

- The Communicative Approach (CA) emphasizes learning English through meaningful communication rather than memorizing grammar rules.

Basic Philosophy

- Language is primarily a tool for communication.

Principles

1. Learner-centered teaching.
2. Communication before accuracy.
3. Learning by interaction.
4. Integration of LSRW skills.
5. Use of authentic materials.

Procedure

1. Introduce a communicative task.
2. Pair or group work.
3. Interaction among learners.
4. Teacher guidance.
5. Feedback and evaluation.

Merits

1. Develops communicative competence.
2. Increases learner confidence.
3. Encourages participation.
4. Promotes real-life language use.
5. Improves fluency.

Demerits

1. Less emphasis on grammar.
2. Difficult in large classes.
3. Requires trained teachers.

4. Assessment becomes difficult.

5. Grammar Translation Method (GTM)

Meaning

- The Grammar Translation Method teaches English through grammar rules and translation between the mother tongue and English.

Basic Philosophy

- Learning grammar and translation leads to language mastery.

Principles

1. Grammar first.
2. Translation practice.
3. Memorization of vocabulary.
4. Reading and writing emphasized.
5. Mother tongue as the medium.

Procedure

1. Explain grammar rules.
2. Introduce vocabulary.
3. Translate sentences.
4. Practice exercises.
5. Correct errors.

Merits

1. Improves grammar knowledge.
2. Develops reading skills.
3. Easy to implement.
4. Suitable for examinations.

Demerits

1. Neglects speaking and listening.
2. Promotes rote learning.
3. Limited communication.
4. Teacher-centered.

6. Direct Method

Meaning

- The Direct Method teaches English directly without using the learners' mother tongue.

Basic Philosophy

- A language should be learned in the same way as the mother tongue.

Principles

1. No translation.
2. English only.
3. Learning through conversation.
4. Inductive grammar teaching.
5. Use of demonstration and objects.

Procedure

1. Present objects or pictures.

2. Introduce new vocabulary.
3. Conduct oral practice.
4. Ask questions.
5. Practice reading and writing.

Merits

1. Improves speaking ability.
2. Develops pronunciation.
3. Increases confidence.
4. Makes learning interesting.

Demerits

1. Time-consuming.
2. Difficult for beginners.
3. Requires skilled teachers.
4. Not suitable for large classes.

7. Bilingual Method

Meaning

- The Bilingual Method uses both the mother tongue and English for teaching.

Basic Philosophy

- Controlled use of the mother tongue helps learners understand English better.

Principles

1. Both languages are used.
2. English receives maximum exposure.
3. Mother tongue is used only when necessary.
4. Communication is emphasized.

Procedure

1. Introduce English sentence.
2. Explain difficult words in the mother tongue.
3. Practice orally.
4. Reading and writing activities.
5. Reinforcement.

Merits

1. Saves teaching time.
2. Reduces learner anxiety.
3. Improves comprehension.
4. Suitable for Indian classrooms.

Demerits

1. Overuse of the mother tongue.
2. Reduces English exposure.
3. Requires teacher competence in both languages.

8. Computer Assisted Language Teaching (CALT)

Meaning

- Computer Assisted Language Teaching (CALT) is the use of computers and digital technology for teaching and learning English.

Basic Philosophy

- Technology enhances language learning through interactive and multimedia experiences.

Principles

1. Learner-centered learning.
2. Self-paced learning.
3. Interactive instruction.
4. Multimedia learning.
5. Continuous feedback.

Procedure

1. Introduce digital learning materials.
2. Interactive activities.
3. Online practice.
4. Computer-based assessment.
5. Feedback and improvement.

Merits

1. Interactive learning.
2. Immediate feedback.
3. Individualized learning.
4. Improves motivation.
5. Access to authentic resources.

Demerits

1. Expensive.
2. Requires electricity and internet.
3. Technical problems.
4. Digital divide among learners.

9. Eclectic ApproachMeaning

- The Eclectic Approach combines the best features of different methods according to learners' needs and classroom situations.

Basic Philosophy

- No single method is suitable for every learner or teaching situation.

Principles

1. Flexibility.
2. Learner-centeredness.
3. Use of multiple methods.
4. Practical teaching.
5. Focus on learning outcomes.

Procedure

1. Analyze learner needs.
2. Select suitable methods.

3. Combine teaching techniques.
4. Conduct activities.
5. Evaluate learning outcomes.

Merits

1. Highly flexible.
2. Suitable for diverse learners.
3. Increases effectiveness.
4. Promotes meaningful learning.
5. Encourages teacher creativity.

Demerits

1. Requires experienced teachers.
2. Needs careful planning.
3. Difficult for inexperienced teachers.
4. Lack of standard procedure.

10. Comparison of Major Methods

Method	Main Focus	Medium	Teacher Role	Learner Role
Structural Situational	Grammar through situations	English	Guide	Active participant
Communicative	Communication	English	Facilitator	Communicator
Grammar Translation	Grammar & Translation	Mother Tongue + English	Instructor	Passive learner
Direct Method	Speaking	English Only	Demonstrator	Active learner
Bilingual Method	Communication with support	Both Languages	Facilitator	Active learner
CALT	Technology-based learning	Digital Media	Guide	Independent learner
Eclectic Approach	Mixed methods	Flexible	Facilitator	Active participant

UNIT-V: PLANNING FOR TEACHING

1. Planning for Teaching

Meaning

- Planning for Teaching is the systematic process of organizing teaching-learning activities in advance to achieve predetermined educational objectives effectively.
- It helps the teacher decide what to teach, how to teach, when to teach, and how to evaluate learning outcomes.

Objectives

1. To achieve learning objectives effectively.
2. To organize teaching systematically.
3. To utilize time and resources efficiently.
4. To ensure active learner participation.
5. To improve the quality of teaching.

2. Annual Plan

Meaning

- An Annual Plan is a year-long plan prepared by the teacher to organize the entire syllabus according to the academic calendar.

Components
